

Commonwealth Prac Payment

Are you studying a Bachelor's or Master's degree in teaching, nursing, midwifery or social work? You may be eligible to apply for the Australian Government's Commonwealth Prac Payment (CPP).

The Commonwealth Prac Payment will support you with the costs associated with a mandatory placement as part of your course.

From 1 July 2025, a payment of $331.65 per week will be available while you undertake your mandatory placements.

Eligibility criteria:

You will need to be:

- ☐ a domestic student enrolled in a Commonwealth supported place (CSP)
- ☐ enrolled in a Bachelor's or Master's degree in a course of study that leads to entry-to-practice in teaching, nursing, midwifery or social work at an eligible higher education provider or a Vocational Education and Training (VET) Diploma of Nursing
- ☐ completing a mandatory placement required for professional accreditation that either:

☐ averages 30 or more hours per week

OR

☐ is known as a continuity of care placement, as part of a course of study in midwifery, which prevents the student from being able to maintain paid work due to the need to ensure their availability during the placement.

AND

You will also need to either:

☐ be on an Australian Government income support payment (for example ABSTUDY, Austudy, Youth Allowance, Disability Support Pension or DVA income support payment)

OR

☐ meet a 'Need to Work Test' and an 'Income Test' where you provide evidence of working on average 15+ hours per week over a 4-week period during your normal study (outside placement), with an individual income threshold of $1500 per week (before tax), including income from State, Territory or Commonwealth scholarships during the same period.

You may also be able to access the CPP if there are exceptional circumstances.

Reporting requirements

If you get the CPP you must report it to the Australian Taxation Office as income as part of your annual tax return. If you get an income support payment from Services Australia or the Department of Veterans' Affairs, you will also need to let them know you're going to get the CPP.
