Service closures to support mandatory child safety training

The Australian Government is making changes in 2026 to help early childhood education and care (ECEC) staff complete mandatory child safety training while minimising impact on families.

This measure allows Child Care Subsidy (CCS) approved ECEC services to:

- close for up to 5 hours annually to support staff in completing mandatory child safety training
- continue claiming CCS during these closure periods.

Services will have flexibility in how they structure closures. However, to minimise disruption to families they must not close any earlier than 5 pm. They may remain closed until the end of their standard operating hours.

Closures are not compulsory.

The measure:

- supports services to help staff complete mandatory child safety training
- minimises inconvenience for families
- responds to concerns about the time and cost of supporting staff to undertake the training.

This mandatory child safety training was announced in August 2025 as part of national reforms to improve safety and quality in ECEC. It is subject to the passage of legislation.

Providers must tell families early about closure timing. This will allow families time to find alternative care.

More information for providers, services and families will be available in the coming months.

Visit our website for information about this measure.

Worker retention payment update

15% wage increase has started

If you get the worker retention payment, you must now pay all eligible staff 15% above the relevant award rate.

Visit our website to view the minimum rates you must pass on to staff. Remember:

- all funding must be used for wages or eligible on-costs
- any remaining funds may be used to smooth funding across other services on your grant agreement.

More services can now apply

Services that exceeded the fee growth cap can now apply for the worker retention payment if they comply with a new combined cap over 2 years.

Previously, services that increased fees by more than 4.4% between 8 August 2024 and 7 August 2025 were not eligible. These services can now apply if:

- their total fee increase does not exceed 8.6% from 8 August 2024 to 7 August 2026
- their fee increase does not exceed 4.2% from 8 August 2025 to 7 August 2026.

Learn more and apply for the worker retention payment.

Survey closing soon

There is still time to have your say on the worker retention payment. An independent survey, run by ORIMA Research, closes 12 pm AEDT 15 December 2025.

Search your inbox for a unique email invitation from surveys@orima.com. The survey is quick, voluntary, confidential, and findings are deidentified.

If you have questions about the survey, contact SPS@education.gov.au. If you need technical support, contact surveys@orima.com.

We're processing payments

We have processed worker retention payments for the period 6 October to 2 November 2025.

We processed this payment on 29 November 2025. Please note this is the day we processed the payment, not necessarily the date you will receive funds.

We make payments at the service-level through the Child Care Subsidy System. We send payments to the same bank account as your CCS payments.

We're also processing the next worker retention payment early to make sure you receive it before the New Year. This payment covers the period 3 to 30 November 2025.

To get the correct amount, submit your session reports for this period by 7 December 2025. Session reports submitted after this date will be included in the next payment in January.

Eligible providers who are expecting their first payment in December will not get their historical leave liability payments in this cycle. These will be paid 2 to 7 days before the next payment in January.

Learn more about when and how we make worker retention payments.

2025–26 Christmas–New Year period

Have you read our information about the 2025–26 Christmas–New Year period?

We've got information about CCS payments, session reports, absences and service closures over the holiday period.

Small-scale market sounding closes soon

Submissions from smaller not-for-profit providers, local governments, First Nations led providers and Family Day Care services to help shape future grants under the Building Early Education Fund close 5 pm AEDT 18 December 2025.

If you can build or expand and deliver Centre Based Day Care services in areas of need or modify existing buildings to deliver in-venue Family Day Care, share your insights before the deadline.

Your feedback will help us design practical, targeted grants for the sector.

CCS period of emergency in NT and Qld

A Child Care Subsidy (CCS) period of emergency was declared for parts of the Northern Territory due to the impact of Tropical Cyclone Fina, and parts of Queensland due to the impact of severe storms.

Visit our website to see:

- regions and timeframes where the period of emergency applies
- details of support available during and after a period of emergency.

We continue to monitor the situation and will provide updates as required.

Have your say on a new First Nations Education Policy

Submissions for the new First Nations Education Policy are now open.

We are developing the new Policy in partnership with:

- First Nations stakeholders
- state and territory governments
- non-government groups.

The new Policy will aim to ensure First Nations learners can access and thrive in education systems that are culturally safe, responsible, and accountable.

You can now have your say. Submissions are open until 6 February 2026.

We want to hear from First Nations peoples and others who want to help accelerate the improvement of First Nations learners' outcomes and experiences. We want to know what you think should be included in the Policy.

How to make a submission:

- complete an online survey, or
- upload a written, video, or audio response.

To make a submission or learn more, visit First Nations Education Policy.

Unannounced spot checks program to roll out nationally

We're increasing our unannounced spot checks to ECEC services.

These visits help ensure services meet their legal obligations and administer the CCS correctly. They do not replace routine checks carried out by state or territory regulators. If safety or quality issues are identified during spot checks, we will report them to the local regulator.

Spot checks are about lifting standards and giving families confidence that services are safe and compliant. This comes following a successful pilot in October/November 2025. Findings from the pilot are being used to shape a scalable and nationally consistent approach to spot checks.

For more details, visit spot checks on our website.

Changes to early childhood education and care legislation passes

On Friday 28 November, legislation for the ECEC sector passed parliament.

The changes make the legislation clearer, promote transparency, and remove ambiguity.

These include:

- requiring providers to share information about the cost of delivering ECEC
- sharing and disclosing information collected under Family Assistance Law (FAL), and
- technical amendments to remove inconsistencies.

We want your input! Nationwide CCTV assessment in ECEC settings

Australian Governments are committed to strengthening the safety, health, and wellbeing of children in ECEC.

To support this, Education Ministers have agreed to conduct a national CCTV assessment in up to 300 ECEC services nationwide.

Why your voice matters:

We want to understand how CCTV is currently used in ECEC services, its purpose, and your views on its future role.

Have your say:

Please take 2 minutes to complete this short survey by Friday 12 December 2025.

Your feedback will help shape the design of the national assessment.

We ask that each service provider submits one response per ECEC site. If you are responding for multiple sites, please note this in the survey.

More information for families on StartingBlocks.gov.au

StartingBlocks.gov.au will now display 6 types of enforcement actions taken by state and territory regulators over the past 2 years.

These include:

- conditions on provider or service approval
- amendment of provider or service approval
- suspension of provider or service approval
- compliance notices
- emergency action notices
- enforceable undertakings.

StartingBlocks.gov.au will also include:

- new resources to help you explain these actions to families
- links to the Child Care Subsidy enforcement action register.

These updates build on recent changes on 1 September to display the most recent regulatory visit to each service. They are part of a broader national commitment to improving quality and safety in ECEC.

You don't need to take any action for compliance information to appear – it will be provided by your regulator. But you should ensure your other details, such as fees and vacancies are up to date. You can update these details via the Provider Entry Point \(PEP\) or your third-party software.

Understanding privacy obligations

You collect personal information from families when you enrol children. You share this information with us so they can get CCS.

When you collect personal information from families, you must make sure that they:

- know that you are collecting their personal information
- understand that you will share this information with us
- consent to you sharing this information with us.

So that families can get CCS, we need to:

- collect their personal information
- share this information with other government departments, like Services Australia.

Make sure that families understand that we cannot provide CCS without their permission for you to share information with us.

You must also take reasonable steps to protect the personal information that you hold about families. Find simple tips to safeguard data from breaches on our website.

Discounted care for staff

Did you know you can offer discounted care to some staff without reducing their CCS?

The workforce discount is an optional incentive to help you attract and retain qualified staff.

You can offer the workforce discount to:

- early childhood teachers and educators
- centre directors and coordinators who hold an ECEC qualification
- cooks.

The employee must:

- work at a Centre Based Day Care or Outside School Hours Care service
- have a child enrolled at a service where they work or that you own.

The workforce discount:

- is a prescribed discount
- is applied after CCS calculation
- will not reduce a family's CCS entitlement
- requires the employee to pay at least 5% of the gap fee.

Play and children's wellbeing

Join Be You for an online event on how child-led play supports children's wellbeing, regulation, and resilience.

This event will discuss ways to create a shared approach that increases opportunities for child-led play.

The session will take place online at 12 pm AEDT on 10 December 2025.

How you pay for Family Day Care or In Home Care will be changing soon

From 1 January 2026, you will need to pay your Child Care Subsidy (CCS) gap fee directly to your Family Day Care (FDC) or In Home Care (IHC) provider.

The gap fee is the out-of-pocket amount that you pay after your CCS amount is applied.

FDC and IHC educators will no longer be able to collect your gap fees on behalf of the FDC or IHC provider.

If you currently pay your gap fees directly to an educator, your service will contact you to set up new payment processes with you.

All gap fees must be paid by EFT (unless an exemption has been granted).

Check with your service if you have any questions.

Qld storms: CCS period of emergency declared

We've declared a Child Care Subsidy (CCS) period of emergency in parts of Queensland due to the impact of severe storms.

The CCS period of emergency applies from 24 to 28 November 2025 in the following local government areas (LGAs):

- Central Highlands
- Fraser Coast
- Moreton Bay
- Noosa
- Sunshine Coast.

We continue to monitor the situation and will provide updates as required.

- families will get unlimited allowable absences for the duration of the CCS period of emergency.

A gap fee waiver is a type of provider discount. You must report the type and amount of prescribed discounts in session reports if they have been applied for the session.

Recalled play sand due to asbestos risks: CCS period of emergency declared

We've declared a Child Care Subsidy (CCS) period of emergency nationally following the recall of play sand due to asbestos risks.

The CCS period of emergency applies from 12 to 21 November 2025. During this period services may be able to claim CCS whilst closed (for enrolled hours during the period only) and families may be able to access gap fee waivers and extra absences.

The person with management or control of an impacted service must contact ccshelpdesk@education.gov.au using the subject line "asbestos incident". Provide your service name and ID, along with the following information:

If you were directed to close

A copy of the notice from your regulator directing you to close.

If you voluntarily closed

A copy of your ACECQA closure notification and details on:

- how the emergency impacted your service
- what remediation has taken place.

State and territory regulators have reached out to ECEC providers with information and guidance on disposal. Community Child Care Fund and In Home Care services that are regulated by the Australian Government have been contacted by the department.

Worker retention payment update

More services eligible for worker retention payment

More ECEC services can access the worker retention payment.

From 1 December 2025 services that exceeded the fee growth cap can become eligible for the worker retention payment if they comply with a new combined cap over 2 years.

Previously, services that increased fees by more than 4.4% between 8 August 2024 and 7 August 2025 were not eligible. Now, these services can become eligible if their total fee increase does not exceed 8.6% over the 2 years from 8 August 2024 to 7 August 2026 (and does not exceed 4.2% from 8 August 2025 to 7 August 2026).

Providers can apply for these newly eligible services from 1 December 2025. These services will not be eligible for funding for the first year of the program.

All other services remain subject to the original annual fee growth caps:

- 4.4% between 8 August 2024 and 7 August 2025
- 4.2% between 8 August 2025 and 7 August 2026.

Providers may request an alternative fee growth cap in limited circumstances where financial viability is impacted.

This change:

- enables more providers and services to participate
- supports wage increases for more workers
- helps keep fees affordable for families
- ensures services that signed up earlier and stayed within the caps are not worse off than those joining later.

Share your experience with the worker retention payment

The worker retention payment is providing a 15% wage increase for the ECEC workforce. An independent survey, run by ORIMA Research, will help us understand what's working and what needs improvement.

- your experience with the application process, guidance and support
- the impact of the program on staff recruitment and retention.

The survey is quick and confidential. It takes less than 10 minutes, is voluntary, and results are reported in deidentified form.

On-site spot checks for the early childhood sector to start

From October 2025, we will start a pilot to conduct unannounced spot checks on ECE services.

Spot checks will be conducted at 40–45 services across regional and urban areas, including in New South Wales, Queensland, Victoria, and Western Australia.

This action comes after new legislation passed parliament on 31 July. The laws give the department new powers of entry to:

- identify Child Care Subsidy (CCS) compliance issues
- report any observed quality and safety concerns to local regulators.

We know that the vast majority of the sector cares deeply about the safety and quality of ECEC. Site visits and spot checks are not about shutting centres down. They are about lifting standards up.

For more information on spot checks:

- read our announcement about on-site spot checks for the early childhood sector to start
- visit spot checks on our website.

The following resources can help you check and improve compliance, quality and safety:

- reach out to your local regulator.

Changes to early childhood education and care legislation

The Australian Government has introduced legislation for the ECEC sector.

The proposed changes make the legislation clearer, promote transparency, and remove ambiguity.

Gathering information about the cost of delivering ECEC

The changes allow us to require providers to share information about how much it costs to deliver ECEC. This will support the Early Education Service Delivery Prices project.

Sharing and disclosing information collected under Family Assistance Law

The changes mean we can share and disclose information about providers and services that we collect under Family Assistance Law (FAL) if it is already publicly available. This includes information available from public sources like ASIC or ABN registers. It means we can use public data to collaborate with the public, private and research sectors. This does not change the strong protections in place for information about children and parents.

Technical amendments to remove inconsistencies

These include:

- a change to align the date of effect of certain CCS eligibility and entitlement decisions with the Child Care Subsidy System
- two minor technical amendments to improve consistency by refining previous legislative changes.

These amendments have little to no impact on providers, services or families.

The changes are subject to the passage of legislation.

Changes to the activity test from January 2026

From 5 January 2026, all CCS eligible families can get at least 72 hours of subsidised care per fortnight. These changes are known as the 3 Day Guarantee.

Families can get 100 hours of subsidised child care each fortnight for each child if they:

- are caring for an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander child
- have more than 48 hours each fortnight of recognised participation
- have an exemption or experience exceptional circumstances, or
- receive Additional Child Care Subsidy (ACCS) child wellbeing, temporary financial hardship or grandparent payments.

Families must still pay a gap fee, except in certain circumstances.

Families are not guaranteed a place with a provider. Families will still need to secure a place with their chosen child care service.

Families who want to get more than 72 hours will need to report their recognised participation to Services Australia.

Consultation on Disability Standards

We're seeking views on the Disability Standards for Education.

The standards clarify the obligations of education and training providers and the rights of people with disability under the Disability Discrimination Act 1992.

The standards are reviewed every 5 years to ensure they remain effective. In the 2025 review, we are seeking views on 3 main topics:

- effective implementation of the standards
- inclusive decision-making
- clear responsibilities for assessment authorities and course developers.

Submissions are now open. Find more information, including how to submit your feedback, on the consultation website.

Check your hourly fees on StartingBlocks.gov.au

Following recent enhancements, StartingBlocks.gov.au now displays hourly fees.

This change helps families make informed choices, but it's also revealed that some services have incorrect fee information.

What you need to do:

- check your fees on StartingBlocks.gov.au
- if your fees are not correct, update them in the Child Care Subsidy System via the Provider Entry Point or your third-party software
- allow 24 to 48 hours for the changes to appear.

If you are unable to make changes, ask an authorised person to email the CCS Provider Helpdesk with:

- the correct fee
- the date the fee applies from
- the subject line: Hourly fee update.

Next steps for the Building Early Education Fund

The Australian Government is moving ahead with the Building Early Education Fund. The Building Fund is a $1 billion investment to build and grow early childhood education and care (ECEC) services in areas of need.

The Building Fund includes $500 million to build and expand ECEC services. This funding will be targeted to areas of greatest need and will roll out across several priority streams.

We will provide capital funding to states and territories to build or expand ECEC services on, or near, school sites.

Sector grants will be available to build or expand ECEC services in areas of need. This will include:

- a large-scale grant round for large not-for-profit providers
- a grant round for smaller providers and in-venue Family Day Care providers.

We are talking to large not-for-profit providers now to help shape a future grants program. We want to understand their capacity to build and run several new services. This will help us design grants that go to providers with a strong track record and the ability to deliver high-quality services at scale.

In partnership with the Investment Dialogue for Australia's Children, we will establish Integrated Early Years Hubs that bring together early learning, child and maternal health, and family and community supports in one place.

These actions are part of the government's $1 billion plan to support early education. The goal is to build a universal ECEC system that gives more children the best start in life.

- in identified priority areas and regional, remote or very remote areas, or
- that offer specialised care to families experiencing disadvantage or vulnerability.

Providers will be able to apply for 2 streams of funding:

- sustainability support – for activities that improve financial viability
- capital support – for minor works to improve existing facilities.

Grants will provide up to 3 years of funding for eligible services.

This process:

- confirms you used funding correctly
- is part of regular reporting for the worker retention payment.

Log into the grants portal to complete the form. It is only visible to providers who received regular payments before 30 June 2025. If you received your first payment after this date, you don't need to report until August 2026.

Learn more and see our tips for completing the annual declaration.

Understanding the maximum cap

Under the worker retention payment, all providers are assigned a maximum cap. This is the highest amount of funding you can get over the life of the grant.

The cap is set when your grant is approved. It is based on data from the Child Care Subsidy System and includes a buffer to account for changes in service delivery.

Importantly, the cap:

- is not a guaranteed amount – your total payments may be less than the cap
- does not determine your regular payments.

Payments are made every 4 weeks in arrears and vary depending on actual hours of care provided and the time of year. Because of this, you can't simply divide the cap by 24 months to estimate each payment.

If you're nearing your cap or have a unique service offering outside the scope of the standard payment calculation, we can check your funding through the funding review process and may increase your cap if needed.

Find out more about the maximum cap on our website.

New declaration of compliance

The declaration of compliance is a simple and quick form covering key provider obligations under Family Assistance Law (FAL).

You may receive a declaration of compliance with the section 158 notice.

The declaration aims to help us identify potential compliance issues early and give providers:

- customised feedback and education
- support to stay on track with their obligations.

We will use it as part of our regular compliance monitoring. You may be asked to complete a declaration:

- as part of targeted compliance actions, or

What you need to do

If selected, you will receive a notice by email. You will have 2 weeks to respond. You will need to:

- review the information
- confirm your current provider information and details about a specific service
- declare your compliance with FAL by responding to the questions.

It's important to be accurate and honest. We will check the information you provide against session reports and other records. We can then provide clear and constructive feedback to improve your compliance.

Delivering early childhood education and care in Kununurra

We are proud to announce the opening of a new early childhood education and care (ECEC) service in Kununurra Western Australia, supported by the Community Child Care Fund (CCCF) restricted program.

The One Tree Wunan Garndim-banjelng Badang Yarrowoo Menewoolbtha service opened on 21 July 2025, marking a significant milestone for the community. To celebrate this achievement, an official launch of the service was held on 27 August 2025, bringing together the community and those involved in establishing this service to commemorate its successful opening. It is providing high-quality, culturally safe ECEC for up to 38 local children in the community.

The opening follows more than 2 years of dedicated community effort:

- led by the Wunan Foundation and One Tree Community Services
- supported by the Department of Education and SNAICC – National Voice for our Children.

The service's name reflects community consultation and means 'Growing strong roots for strong futures'.

We funded the service in 2023 as part of an almost $30 million expansion of the CCCF restricted grant.

SNAICC is the community partner for services set up under the grant, supporting the establishment and implementation of community-led and culturally safe ECEC.

Supporting safety in early childhood education and care

We're committed to helping early childhood education and care (ECEC) services deliver safe, high-quality experiences for children and families.

As part of this, we're addressing long-standing concerns about services that have not met the National Quality Standards (NQS).

We've reached out to a small number of services that have consistently fallen short of key quality and safety benchmarks.

Services that do not meet the required standards may face compliance actions, including:

- suspension or cancellation of their Child Care Subsidy (CCS) approval
- additional conditions placed on their CCS approval.

We've updated the enforcement action register. Further updates will be added progressively. These work marks the start of a broader effort to ensure that all services are prioritising child safety and quality.

We encourage you to:

- review your current NQS rating
- engage with your regulator to understand areas for improvement
- access resources and guidance available through the ACECQA website.

We know most providers and educators are doing the right thing. This work supports those who uphold high standards and helps rebuild public confidence in the sector.

Joint action from special Education Ministers Meeting

On 22 August 2025, Education Ministers came together to agree on joint action to strengthen the safety and quality ECEC across Australia.

Ensuring the safety and wellbeing of every child in ECEC is a shared national priority. Together, we are building a system where safety is embedded in every aspect of ECEC through:

- robust regulation
- aligned decision-making
- a deep commitment to safeguarding children.

The vast majority of educators are professionals doing the right thing while educating and caring for our youngest Australians. While the NQF provides a strong and effective foundation for ECEC, ongoing efforts are essential to further strengthen safeguards that ensure the safety and wellbeing of every child.

Outcome on public consultation for the Child Safety Review

Following the public consultation process for the national Child Safety Review, the Decision Regulation Impact Statement (DRIS) was released on 22 August 2025.

The DRIS:

- was informed by public consultation
- analyses the impacts of recommendations from the Child Safety Review
- provides an agreed set of reforms based on the analysis.

The set of proposed reforms put to the Education Ministers include improving:

- safe use of digital devices
- mandating child safety training
- improved regulation of educator and staff conduct
- Working with Children Checks (WWCC) requirements in ECEC
- the safety of the physical service environment.

Application tips: professional development subsidies

See our tips to maximise your chances of a successful professional development or paid practicum subsidy application.

1. Prepare documentation early

Have staff qualifications, employment details, training plans and practicum schedules ready before starting your application.

2. Plan practicum schedules

For the paid practicum subsidy, work with eligible staff to establish practicum dates and durations. Remember that the subsidy must be used to undertake a practicum that starts between 30 June 2025 and 28 June 2026.

3. Be specific about training needs

For the professional development subsidy, you must outline the type of training that your staff will undertake. This can be mandatory training or highly recommended training. Remember, you cannot apply for a professional development subsidy for staff who received the funding in the 2024–25 financial year.

4. Apply early

Late submissions will not be accepted. If we receive a high volume of applications, we will prioritise applications from First Nations educators and those from regional and remote locations first. We will also only open the second round of applications if funding is available after the first round.

Avoid these common mistakes:

- submitting an incomplete application
- applying on behalf of ineligible staff
- applying for ineligible activities.

The best way to increase your chances of a successful application is to ensure all required information is accurate and complete.

Applications close on 19 September 2025.

Apply for the practicum exchange living allowance

There is one month left to apply for the practicum exchange living and travel allowance.

Practicum exchanges can be challenging for student educators in regional and remote areas with few or no other services nearby.

We're supporting up to 100 educators who need to complete a practicum with a living and travel allowance. The allowance provides $1,552.50 per week, for up to 4 weeks, for living and travel costs associated with completing a practicum away from home.

Providers must apply on behalf of eligible educators. If you need to complete a practicum and think you would benefit from this allowance, talk to your provider about applying.

- requires the employee to pay at least 5% of the gap fee.

You must now include the workforce discount on your session reports.

Please be assured we are working to process outstanding applications as quickly as possible. If your application is approved, your first payment will include backpay from the start of your grant agreement.

Horn Island to get new early childhood education and care service

The Australian Government will fund the establishment of a new early childhood education and care (ECEC) service on Horn Island in Queensland, under an almost $30 million expansion of the Community Child Care Fund (CCCF) restricted program.

On 29 July 2025 we entered into a grant agreement with Kaurareg Native Title Aboriginal Corporation RNTBC (KNTAC), the registered native title prescribed body corporate for the Kaurareg People.

KNTAC will renovate a block that was a former ECEC centre that has been closed for several years. The new service will provide high-quality, community-led and culturally safe ECEC to approximately 25 children on Horn Island.

To support this initiative, KNTAC will work with partners, including Astute Early Years Specialists to establish the Ngurupai Early Childhood Education and Care Service.

This is the ninth service funded under the CCCF restricted expansion grant, which aims to increase participation rates of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children in ECEC settings.

- lodging their tax return with the Australian Taxation Office (ATO), or
- telling Services Australia they don't need to lodge a tax return, even if they've already told the ATO.

- Gunnedah Shire Council
- Narrabri Shire Council
- Tamworth Regional Council
- Uralla Shire Council
- Walcha Council.

We continue to monitor the situation and will provide updates as required.

Strengthening early childhood education and care regulation – legislation passes

Legislation to strengthen regulation of the early childhood education and care sector (ECEC) has passed parliament.

The changes make it clear that the government expects all Child Care Subsidy (CCS) approved providers and services to provide high-quality and safe care to administer the CCS.

The department will release detailed guidance to providers in the coming weeks.

For more information, read the legislation announcement.

Direct gap fee collection measure passes parliament

The Australian Government's legislation for the direct gap fee collection measure has passed through the Australian parliament.

From 1 January 2026, Family Day Care (FDC) and In Home Care (IHC) providers must collect CCS gap fees directly from families. This means that educators in these services will no longer be able to collect the gap fee themselves on behalf of providers.

All gap fees must be paid by EFT (unless an exemption has been granted).

Worker retention payment update

4.2% fee growth cap starts Friday

From 8 August 2025, the worker retention payment fee growth cap will change from 4.4% to 4.2%.

The fee growth cap is an important condition of the worker retention payment. It:

- sets a limit on fee increases for providers who get the payment or want to be eligible in the future
- applies to all services unless we approve an alternative cap
- supports affordable ECEC
- ensures wage increases aren't passed on to families.

The 4.2% fee growth cap will remain in place until 7 August 2026.

Changes coming to alternative fee growth cap application

We're streamlining the alternative fee growth cap application process.

The current application will close at 11:59 pm on 7 August 2025. A new, simpler application will launch in the week commencing 18 August 2025.

The new form will be quicker to complete and require less information – making it easier for you and faster for us to assess.

If you've already applied for an alternative cap, your application will still be assessed. You don't need to reapply.

If you urgently need to apply for an alternative cap during this period, please contact ccshelpdesk@education.gov.au.

Applications for the worker retention payment remain open.

Seasonal adjustments start August

Some providers will see changes to their worker retention payments from August. This is due to seasonal adjustments that balance funding across the year.

Payments are based on labour costs for charged hours of care, which vary seasonally. To support services during peak periods, we increased payments for some providers in:

- December 2024 (+10% on the base rate of funding)
- January 2025 (+15% on the base rate of funding)
- February 2025 (+5% on the base rate of funding)

We will recover these advances through reduced payments from August to October 2025.

If you received these advances, you may notice lower payments starting from the August payment through to the first October payment. We make payments every 4 weeks, with 2 scheduled in October.

This is part of a planned approach to ensure consistent support across the calendar year. Seasonal adjustments will continue for some providers, with the same pattern of adjustments commencing from December 2025.

We engaged ACECQA earlier this year to develop the framework to:

- strengthen the capability of services to embed inclusive practices
- better support children and families experiencing barriers to access and participation.

Fair Work Commission: gender-based undervaluation – priority awards review

On 16 April 2025, the Fair Work Commission (FWC) made a provisional decision on wages under the Children's Services Award 2010, in its gender-based undervaluation – priority awards review.

A final decision has not yet been made.

We designed the worker retention payment to account for the outcome of this review. Specifically, if the award wages increase by less than the amount provided by the worker retention payment, the amount employers must pay above the award will reduce by the same percentage as the award increase.

For example, if the award wages go up by 6%, you will only need to pay 4% above the new award rate until 1 December 2025.

The provisional decision is not grounds to raise fees above the fee growth cap. The cap is 4.4% now and will drop to 4.2% from 8 August 2025.

We're monitoring the FWC review closely. We will communicate any changes to the award and how they affect the worker retention payment when these are known.

How you can benefit from professional development subsidies

Thinking about applying for one of the professional development subsidies? Here's what each subsidy can cover.

The professional development subsidy covers one day of training per staff member. This can include:

- mandatory training such as first aid, child protection, induction training and food handling
- highly recommended training such as additional child safety and quality training, cultural competency, inclusion training, leadership, coaching and mentoring.

You may use the subsidy to:

- cover backfilling costs while staff attend training during work hours
- pay staff a supplement for training attended outside of work hours.

The paid practicum subsidy provides paid leave for staff to undertake required practicums. Staff can get the subsidy twice per year (once each semester) for up to 8 weeks per semester.

Remember:

- the subsidies must directly benefit staff through training opportunities or paid leave
- only CCS approved providers can apply for the subsidies.

Strengthening early childhood education and care regulation – legislation introduced

Today, the Australian Government has introduced legislation to strengthen regulation of the early childhood education and care (ECEC) sector.

The proposed legislation ensures quality and safety is a paramount consideration when assessing Child Care Subsidy (CCS) provider approval applications and for ongoing approval.

The amendments make it clear that the Government expects all CCS-approved providers and services to be providing high quality and safe care as a condition of gaining and maintaining approval to administer the CCS.

The changes include:

- considering a provider's commitment to high-quality education and care, and a provider's quality, safety and compliance history when assessing applications for CCS provider approval or to add additional services
- taking compliance action against existing providers on quality and safety grounds, including the option to cut off access to CCS funding in the most extreme cases
- preventing providers who persistently fail to meet minimum standards and repetitively breach the National Law from opening new CCS-approved services
- publicising compliance actions taken against providers to improve transparency for families
- powers of entry to enable Australian Government authorised officers to conduct unannounced service visits and spot checks
- delegating powers to:
 - apply for monitoring warrants to appropriately qualified departmental staff
 - appoint qualified and experienced experts to conduct independent audits of large child care providers
- requiring all Family Day Care (FDC) and In Home Care (IHC) providers to collect CCS gap fees directly from families rather than via educators (unless an exception has been granted).

The changes are subject to the passage of legislation.

Read the announcement.

Direct gap fee collection legislation introduced

The Australian Government has introduced legislation for the direct gap fee collection measure.

From 1 January 2026, Family Day Care (FDC) and In Home Care (IHC) providers must collect CCS gap fees directly from families. This means that educators in these services will no longer be able to collect the gap fee themselves on behalf of providers. All gap fees must be paid by electronic funds transfer (unless an exemption has been granted).

Many FDC and IHC providers already directly collect CCS gap fees. We encourage remaining FDC and IHC services to begin preparing for the transition now to ensure that you are compliant once the requirement takes effect from 1 January 2026.

We have partnered with the following organisations to support your transition:

- Family Day Care Australia to support FDC providers
- NSW Family Day Care Association to support IHC providers.

Worker retention payment update

Fair Work Commission: gender-based undervaluation – priority awards review

On 16 April 2025, the Fair Work Commission (FWC) made a provisional decision on wages under the Children's Services Award 2010, in its gender-based undervaluation – priority awards review.

A final decision has not yet been made.

We designed the worker retention payment to account for the outcome of this review. Specifically, if the award wages increase by less than the amount provided by the worker retention payment, the amount employers must pay above the award will reduce by the same percentage as the award increase.

For example, if the award wages go up by 6%, you will only need to pay 4% above the new award rate until 1 December 2025.

The provisional decision is not grounds to raise fees above the fee growth cap. The cap is 4.4% now and will drop to 4.2% from 8 August 2025.

We're monitoring the FWC review closely. We will communicate any changes to the award and how they affect the worker retention payment when these are known.

Delivering early childhood education and care in Napranum

A community-run ECEC service in Napranum, Queensland has opened its newly integrated service, funded through the Community Child Care Fund (CCCF).

The Napranum Early Childhood Centre opened on 23 June 2025 following more than 2 years of dedicated work led by the Napranum Aboriginal Shire Council. The community-run service brings together the former daycare and kindergarten services into one place, giving local families more flexibility and access to high-quality ECEC.

The service was funded in 2021 as part of an almost $30 million expansion of the CCCF restricted grant. This grant funds mostly new First Nations-led ECEC services and is part of a broader commitment to Closing the Gap.

Worker retention payment update

Reminder: fee growth cap changes 8 August

A reminder that from 8 August 2025, fee growth will be capped at 4.2%. This is a change from the current fee growth cap of 4.4%.

Providers who get the worker retention payment – or want to be eligible for it in the future – must limit fee growth by a set percentage. This is known as the fee growth cap.

The fee growth cap is an important condition of the worker retention payment. It:

- supports affordable early childhood education and care (ECEC)
- ensures the cost of a wage increase is not passed on to families.

The 4.2% fee growth cap will remain in place until 7 August 2026. It applies to all services receiving the worker retention payment and those that want to be eligible for it in the future, unless we approve an alternative cap.

What are prescribed discounts?

Prescribed discounts allow third parties or providers to contribute to the gap fee without reducing the family's CCS entitlement. This can reduce or remove the gap fee. These discounts provide extra support for families.

This applies to prescribed:

- state and territory third-party payments (TPPs) for preschool children
- state and territory TPPs for children in vulnerable or disadvantaged circumstances
- provider discount for a child of an educator or a cook that is employed by the provider
- provider discount for a period of emergency, also known as a gap fee waiver.

What are the changes?

You will need to include the type and an estimate of the discount when submitting and updating session reports.

You must maintain records of all discounts. Your records must show how the discount was applied to a family's account.

If a prescribed discount has been applied for the session, the family's statement of entitlement must include:

- the type of discount
- the amount of the discount.

We acknowledge the challenging times facing the early childhood education and care sector

We know that the vast majority of providers and educators are dedicated professionals who care deeply about the safety and quality of early childhood education and care (ECEC).

The Australian Government is committed to strengthening safety in ECEC because every child deserves to be safe in early learning and every parent deserves to know their own children are safe.

From 1 September 2025, new regulatory changes will be implemented, including:

- mandatory 24-hour reporting of any allegations, complaints or incidents of abuse, and
- strict controls on digital devices, consistent with the National Model Code and Guidelines
- a ban on vaping.

The government will also strengthen Commonwealth regulatory and enforcement powers to deal with providers that put profit over quality and child safety at risk by introducing legislation to:

- prevent providers who persistently fail to meet minimum standards and repetitively breach the National Law from opening new Child Care Subsidy approved services
- take compliance action against existing providers with significant and continued breaches, including the option to cut off access to Child Care Subsidy funding where appropriate
- strengthen powers to deal with providers that pose an integrity risk
- introduce new powers of entry - allowing authorised Commonwealth officers under the Family Assistance Law to conduct spot checks and unannounced visits at Child Care Subsidy approved services.

The work you do is incredibly important, and we thank you for your support, your hard work and your dedication to Australia's children.

Reporting prescribed discounts via session reports

From 7 July, you must report prescribed third-party payments and prescribed provider discounts in session reports.

Prescribed discounts allow third parties or providers to contribute to the gap fee without reducing the family's Child Care Subsidy (CCS) entitlement. This can reduce or remove the gap fee. These discounts provide extra support for families.

This applies to prescribed:

- state and territory third-party payments (TPPs) for preschool children
 - state and territory TPPs for children in vulnerable or disadvantaged circumstances
 - provider discount for a child of an educator or a cook that is employed by the provider
 - provider discount for a period of emergency, also known as a gap fee waiver.

What you need to do

You will need to include the type and an estimate of the discount when submitting and updating session reports.

You must maintain records of all discounts. Your records must show how the discount was applied to a family's account.

If a prescribed discount has been applied for the session, the family's statement of entitlement must include:

- the type of discount
- the amount of the discount.

Read more details about the changes in our announcement.

Webinar

We're hosting a webinar on 15 July 2025 at 1 pm AEST to provide general information about the third-party payment changes. The webinar will discuss:

- what kinds of payments you need to report
- how different state and territory payments can be calculated for reporting purposes.

The webinar will be recorded and published on our website, along with a transcript, for those who can't attend.

Early Education Service Delivery Prices project

We have engaged Deloitte Access Economics to help us understand the costs for delivering quality early childhood education and care (ECEC).

We are working towards building a universal, affordable ECEC system. To get there, we need a better understanding of what it costs providers to deliver quality ECEC.

This will help the government to:

- gain a data-driven understanding of the reasonable costs of delivering quality ECEC
- make further decisions about the pathway toward universal ECEC.

We have engaged Deloitte Access Economics to deliver the Service Delivery Prices project including consulting with:

- providers
- sector peaks
- all levels of government.

Deloitte Access Economics will:

- look at key areas required to deliver quality ECEC, such as fair wages, property costs and utilities
- review and calculate the reasonable cost of providing high-quality ECEC service delivery
- work out additional costs of service delivery for higher needs cohorts
- set a service baseline to ensure providers can meet all their obligations under the National Quality Framework and Family Assistance Law (FAL)
- contact providers asking for cost data and cost drivers.

The data will reflect how pricing varies across:

- geographical locations
- care types
- higher needs cohorts (e.g. children aged 0-2 years old and remote locations)
- identified underserved and possibly unserved markets
- business types.

Consultation will begin later this year. To get involved, you should:

- ensure your details are correct and up to date in the Provider Entry Point (PEP)
- subscribe to this weekly newsletter
- join our Facebook group.

Worker retention payment update

Payment schedule now available

We've published a payment schedule to help you understand your worker retention payments.

We process standard payments every 4 weeks in arrears. The schedule identifies payments made to date and the periods they relate to.

View the payment schedule under when we make payments on our website. We'll continue to update the schedule to keep you informed.

We appreciate your patience as we process applications. If approved, your first payment will include backpay from the start of your grant agreement. You can apply for backdated payments until 30 September 2025.

Facts from FAL

Reminder that fee reporting is due 14 July

Changes made in September 2024 mean that you must notify us of fees at least twice a year to ensure they are correctly updated or remain accurate.

You need to notify us of your fees 14 days after the end of the:

- financial year – due 14 July
- calendar year – due 14 January.

This also includes reporting no change to fees.

To report no change, update the date of event on the fees and inclusions screen via the PEP or your third-party software.

This reporting obligation is in addition to the current notification requirements to report the fees within 14 days of:

- receiving CCS approval
- starting the CCS-approved service
- changing your fees.

This change was part of the government's commitment to improving the transparency of child care fees. It will help families make informed financial decisions about ECEC.

Read more about notifications and reporting on our website.

Overseas travel and allowable absences

Families can get CCS when their child is unable to attend child care up to 42 days a year.

Families can use their 42 allowable absences for short-term travel overseas. However, families will stop being entitled for CCS after 6 weeks overseas until they return to Australia.

Learn more about allowable absences on our website.

Child Care Subsidy approval can be cancelled

A provider or service approval may be cancelled if you fail to comply with your obligations.

We've recently published new information about cancellation of approval. Did you know we can cancel your CCS approval for not complying with the conditions of continued approval under (FAL)?

This includes where:

- you fail to provide care for 3 continuous months
- you cease to operate all the approved services for which you are approved as a provider
- you no longer have any services for which you are approved as a provider
- there are serious risks to CCS payments and/or child safety and wellbeing.

We can also cancel your CCS approval if your National Law provider or service approval is cancelled.

Find out more about cancellation of approval on our website.

2024-25 session reports close soon

You must submit all session reports for the 2024–25 financial year by 11.59 pm AEST on 3 August 2025.

The Child Care Subsidy System will close for the 2024–25 financial year from Sunday 3 August 2025. After this date you will not be able to submit, vary or withdraw session reports for any sessions of care between 8 July 2024 and 6 July 2025.

Submitting your session reports by this deadline is essential so Services Australia can balance family payments.

Submitting accurate session reports on time is required under Family Assistance Law. Failure to comply with your obligations may result in compliance action.

IHC Support Agencies oversee the delivery of IHC in each state and territory. We have finalised new contracts with 3 IHC Support Agencies following a limited tender.

IHC Support Agencies will work with families and providers to:

- assess family eligibility

- establish a community of practice among providers
- support a high quality and nationally consistent approach to IHC.

The following organisations have been contracted to deliver IHC Support Agency services from 1 July 2025:

- New South Wales Family Day Care Association
- Family Day Care Association Queensland
- Wanslea Family Services.

New guidance for early childhood education and care student assessments

The Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) has developed new guidance for registered training organisations. Training providers can use this guidance when assessing early childhood education and care (ECEC) students in the workplace.

The guidance also helps students understand their obligations during assessments at an ECEC service.

Training providers must follow child safe practices during student assessment in ECEC workplaces.

Direct observation is the preferred assessment method. Training providers may use live streaming where direct observation is not possible. For example, if the ECEC service is in a rural or remote setting. The training provider and ECEC service must mutually agree on this.

Training providers must be aware of child safety requirements and best practice recommendations. This includes the National Model Code for Taking Images and Videos.

National Child Safety Review – new sector guidance

The Australian Children's Education and Care Quality Authority (ACECQA) has released 2 new National Quality Framework (NQF) Child Safety Guides.

The guides will help providers and services prepare for changes to the Education and Care Services National Regulations. The changes will take effect on 1 September 2025.

- The NQF Child Safe Culture Guide helps embed child-safe cultures.
- The NQF Online Safety Guide provides support to keep children safe when using online and digital technologies.

A range of support tools are available within the NQF Child Safety Guides.

Changes to the National Regulations include:

- new requirements for the safe use of digital technologies and online environments
- 24-hour notification for abuse incidents and allegations (down from 7 days)
- prohibiting the use of vaping substances and devices in services.

Refinements to the National Quality Standard to strengthen the focus on child safety will start on 1 January 2026. For more information, refer to the Information Sheet.

The new regulations form part of the response to the 16 recommendations of last year's child safety review.

Play Based Learning with intentionality

The Australian Education Research Organisation (AERO) has published a new discussion paper, Play-based learning with intentionality.

The paper looks at:

- how 'intentional teaching' maximises children's learning in early childhood education, and
- how improvements in ECEC quality can reduce the likelihood of developmental vulnerability at school entry.

The new paper builds on recent AERO research. The research showed there is a strong connection between children's learning and development and the educational program and practices used at ECEC services.

Read the paper on AERO's website.

Inclusive Capability Framework

All ECEC services must be inclusive. To support inclusion in ECEC, we have engaged ACECQA to develop an Inclusive Practice Framework.

The Inclusive Practice Framework is a professional development resource that will:

- strengthen the capability of services to embed inclusive practices
- better support children and families experiencing barriers to access and participation.

The framework will do this by:

- helping services reflect on current inclusive practices and plan for ongoing improvement
- supporting the identification of emerging areas of inclusive practice
- complementing state and territory initiatives and other high-quality resources.

Over the next 12 months, ACECQA will develop and trial the framework. ACECQA will collaborate with:

- ECEC educators
- ECEC providers and services

- national peak associations
- sector organisations
- expert practitioners.

A consortium between Griffith University, Macquarie University and Queensland University of Technology will support ACECQA to develop the framework.

Let's Count:

- aligns with the Early Years Learning Framework V 2.0
- is free for all ECEC professionals.

The program is a practical professional development opportunity for early childhood educators and includes:

- state and territory TPPs for children in vulnerable or disadvantaged circumstances
- provider discounts for a child of an educator or a cook that is employed by the provider
- provider discounts for a period of emergency, also known as a gap fee waiver.

- have an individual PRODA account
- be linked to the provider in the Child Care Subsidy System (CCSS)
- keep their information up to date and correct in CCSS
- notify the department when they join or leave an approved provider or service
- be considered fit and proper by us
- have all necessary background checks
- provide evidence of background checks to the department when asked.

We have a comprehensive list of PMS obligations, tasks and frameworks on our website.

The enrolment process in 4 steps

Enrolling children correctly means families can get CCS payments.

All children who attend approved care must be enrolled. This is a requirement under Family Assistance Law.

Follow these steps.

Step 1

Families lodge a CCS claim with Services Australia. They should do this before their child starts at your service.

Step 2

You and the family agree on care arrangements for the child. Families must agree to the care arrangements in writing.

Step 3

Submit an enrolment notice in the Child Care Subsidy System (CCSS) for the care arrangement.

Step 4

The family will be prompted to confirm the enrolment via their Centrelink online account. CCS payments will not start until the enrolment is confirmed.

Read more details about the enrolment process on our website.

Absences at the start or end of an enrolment

Sometimes, families can get CCS paid for absences at the start and end of an enrolment.

This happens only in certain circumstances:

- the child care service changes owner during the child's extended period
- the child's usual service is closed and the child attends a different service, requiring a new enrolment under the same provider
- a family tragedy has occurred within the 28 days before the absence in the child's extended period
- the enrolment was ceased incorrectly
- any of the additional reasons.

The extended period begins:

- 6 days before the child's first physical attendance and ends on the first attendance day, or
- the day of the child's last physical attendance and ends 6 days after the last attendance day.

To reduce the risk of a CCS debt, you should update a family's enrolment when their circumstances change. This includes:

- foreseen absences of more than 14 weeks
- unforeseen absence, during which you become reasonably sure that the child is not returning to care before their enrolment will end, or within 14 weeks.

Inducements and advertising

ECEC providers may not offer certain types of inducements. An inducement is an incentive offered by a provider to secure a child's enrolment.

Inducements that are financial or not aligned with the quality or delivery of education or care services are not allowed.

Some examples of inducements that you cannot offer include:

- cash, vouchers, gift cards
- iPads, tablets or other devices
- other gifts.

Supporting the next generation of educators

Do you employ educators who are working towards their qualification? If so, they may need to complete a practicum at a service other than your own.

Generally, practicums:

- are mandatory to become a qualified ECEC educator
- must be partly completed outside of an educator's primary ECEC service.

Practicum exchanges can foster:

- diverse experience and knowledge
- networking and support opportunities
- skill and knowledge transfer.

This is where the practicum exchange network comes in handy. Educators can join the network to connect with services and arrange practicums.

Parents can win $200 for having their say on child care

We're inviting parents and carers to have a say on child care in a national survey.

Closing the Gap in early childhood

Closing the Gap targets 3 and 4 focus on the early years. They aim to ensure children:

- are engaged in high quality, culturally appropriate early childhood education and care (ECEC)
- thrive in their early years.

We're investing in measures to support these targets and improve the lives of First Nations children. These include:

- a formal partnership agreement with SNAICC – National Voice for our Children to support Closing the Gap priority reforms and shared decision-making
- the Early Childhood Care and Development Policy Partnership between governments and First Nations representatives to drive community-led outcomes
- the Connected Beginnings program helping First Nations children get the best start to life and support transition to school
- a Community Child Care Fund Restricted program funding new ECEC services in remote areas
- an intensive ECEC model trial at a dedicated First Nations site to help bridge the gap to school readiness
- changes to CCS from January 2026 to guarantee 100 hours of subsidised ECEC per fortnight for First Nations children.

Allowable absences will reset on 1 July

If you are noticing that absences are not paying when submitting session reports, check the family's absence count. Many families have used their 42 allowable absences by this time of year.

You can view the year-to-date absence count for a child via the Provider Entry Point (PEP) or through your third-party software.

Families may be able to get additional absences once they have used their allowable absence days, in certain circumstances. Find out more about the circumstances for allowable absences on our website.

Families can find out more about absences on Service's Australia website and check their year-to-date absence count:

- in their Centrelink online account via myGov
- on the Express Plus Centrelink mobile app.

Submitting session reports

Remember to submit accurate session reports on time – it's the law. Services Australia uses session reports to calculate and process CCS payments.

As a CCS-approved provider, you must:

- submit session reports within 14 days after the end of the week in which the session of care was provided
- submit a session report for each child at your service, for each week a session of care is provided
- include at least one session of care a week, recorded as either an attendance or absence
- only include sessions of care for which you charge a family a fee for providing care to their child.

Submit session reports through the PEP or your third-party software.

Offering discounted care to educators

Did you know you can offer discounted care to some staff without reducing their CCS?

The workforce discount is an optional incentive to help you attract and retain qualified staff.

You can offer the workforce discount to:

- early childhood teachers and educators
- centre directors and coordinators who hold an ECEC qualification
- cooks.

The employee must:

- work at a Centre Based Day Care or Outside School Hours Care service
- have a child enrolled at a service where they work or that you own.

Unlike a standard discount, the workforce discount:

- is applied after CCS calculation
- allows you to report the full fee
- requires the employee to pay at least 5% of the gap fee.

You can:

- choose whether to offer the discount to employees
- determine the discount amount, provided employees pay at least 5% of the gap fee.

We have step-by-step guidance on our website about the approval process, including:

- the two types of approval required
- eligibility rules
- evidence required
- how to submit your application
- what happens after you apply
- how to add, remove or relocate a service

Applicants must read this information carefully before applying and ensure they submit a complete application. If your application is incomplete, we'll ask for more information before we begin our assessment.

You'll also need to provide a statement of tax record as part of the fit and proper person requirements.

If you don't provide this information your application will be rejected and you'll need to reapply.

Learn more about becoming an approved provider on our website.

Avoiding an infringement notice

Law (FAL). Providers must make sure that they, their employees and educators follow the rules.

Many providers comply with the law and do the right thing. However, where certain rules are not being followed, we can use infringements to address non-compliance and help change provider behaviour.

An infringement notice is a fine and can be expensive. For example, the fine for not updating the status of a current working with children check can be up to $16,500.

Infringement notices help providers avoid more severe penalties. They allow a provider to pay a small fine rather than go to court, where they may get a much larger penalty.

Facts from FAL

Electronic payment of gap fees

You must take all reasonable steps to collect gap fees from families electronically. This is a requirement under Family Assistance Law.

We conduct regular audits to check providers are taking all reasonable steps to collect gap fees electronically. If we contact you about an audit, you must respond promptly.

We may take compliance action if you fail to meet your obligations.

See our guidance on collecting gap fees and find out more about our audit process on our website.

Understanding debt notices

We issue debt notices in certain circumstances.

You may receive a debt notice if you:

- change a session of care to fewer hours or days
- withdraw a session report
- act in a non-compliant way
- close or transfer ownership of a service retrospectively
- cease operating your service while offsetting is occurring.

We may also issue you with an infringement notice if the debt is due to non-compliance.

Caring for close family members in Family Day Care

You cannot claim Child Care Subsidy (CCS) when an educator is caring for close family members.

This includes the educator's or their partner's:

- child, foster child, adopted child, kinship child or any child for which you have legal responsibility
- brother, sister, half-brother, half-sister, step-brother or step-sister.

Intentional teaching and purposeful play boosts early education success

A new discussion paper from the Australian Education Research Organisation (AERO) highlights the importance of intentional teaching in ECEC. The new research shows that intentional teaching can significantly enhance learning outcomes. This is especially true for children experiencing disadvantage.

AERO CEO Dr Jenny Donovan said that intentional teaching and play-based learning have often been positioned in opposition to one another.

'Our research challenges that notion, showing that significant associations exist between educators and teachers intentionally supporting learning through play to achieve positive outcomes for the child.'

Facts from FAL

How we support compliance

We undertake compliance activities to help to make sure Child Care Subsidy (CCS) goes to its intended beneficiaries – families.

Before we take compliance action, we give you:

- a notice of our intended action
- opportunity to provide written submissions.

In some instances, Family Assistance Law (FAL) allows us to take compliance action without giving notice. For example:

- where a provider's approval under National Law is suspended or cancelled
- when imposing additional conditions of approval.

Compliance action could include:

- issuing infringement notices
- imposing conditions on provider or service CCS approval
- issuing a debt
- suspending or cancelling your CCS approval
- seeking civil penalty orders
- criminal prosecutions.

Find out more about how we support compliance on our website.

Avoid common enrolment mistakes

You must enrol children correctly so families can get CCS.

Here is how to avoid common mistakes when enrolling children.

Families should make a CCS claim first

Families should lodge a CCS claim before their child starts at your service.

If a child starts at your service before the family has lodged a claim, or while their claim is being assessed, you must charge full fees. If the family is assessed as eligible, CCS can be backdated up to 28 days from when the claim was made. Backdated CCS will be paid directly to the family.

Use the correct enrolment type

Except in very limited circumstances, children must be enrolled under a Complying Written Arrangement to get CCS payments.

Identify the person who made the CCS claim

Enrolment notices must identify the person who made the CCS claim. If you don't identify this person, we cannot make CCS payments.

Families must confirm the enrolment

Once you've submitted an enrolment, the family must confirm the details via their Centrelink online account. CCS payments will not be made until the enrolment is confirmed.

CCS Provider Helpdesk closed for Easter

CCS payments may be affected by the public holiday.

Facts from FAL

Public holiday absences

On public holidays, you can report an absence if your service would have been open otherwise.

For example:

- a service that is open on Mondays can report absences for a public holiday on a Monday
- a service that only operates from Wednesday to Friday cannot report absences for a public holiday on a Monday.

You can only report absences and charge families for children who would have normally attended care on that day. This will be considered an allowable absence and will be deducted from a family's 42 allowable absences.

If you do report an absence for a public holiday, you must still collect the gap fee from families.

Once a family has used their 42 allowable absence days, they cannot claim a public holiday as an additional absence reason.

Invitations to apply for ex-Tropical Cyclone Alfred support payment

We have emailed providers affected by ex-Tropical Cyclone Alfred with an offer to receive the one-off $10,000 support payment for their eligible services.

If you have a service in an affected local government area (LGA), check your email for your payment offer. Providers can accept the offer by completing a secure online form for any services that meet the eligibility criteria.

Services are eligible if they:

- are CCS-approved
- are in an LGA covered by a CCS period of emergency in relation to ex-Tropical Cyclone Alfred
- closed, or partially closed, for 8 days or more during the period of emergency
- agree to waive gap fees for families while closed during the period of emergency.

Learn more about the payment and eligibility criteria on our website.

Not all providers that receive the offer will have services that meet the eligibility criteria. If you receive an offer for a service that does not meet the eligibility criteria, you do not need to complete the online form for that service.

How and when will payments be made?

The payment will be made after providers complete and submit online forms for any services that meet all the eligibility criteria.

The payment will be paid directly to each service found eligible through the offer and acceptance process. It will be paid into the bank account currently nominated for a service in the Child Care Subsidy System (CCSS). This is the same account used to pay CCS. Services should ensure their bank account details are up to date in the CCSS.

What if I haven't received an email offering the support payment?

Emails have been sent to the email address registered for your provider in the CCSS.

If you have services in the affected LGAs and haven't received an email offering the payment, you should:

From the 1.4 million children who attended CCS services in the reference week, the NWC found that:

- 19.3% spoke a language other than English at home, or had parents who spoke another language
- more than 65,000 were Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander children – 4.4% of all children attending CCS services nationally, an increase from 3.8% in 2021 and 3.0% in 2016
- 6.3% of children aged 0 to 12 years had an underlying health condition lasting longer than 6 months.

Understanding inducements and advertising at your service

An inducement is an incentive offered by a provider to secure a child's enrolment.

ECEC providers may not offer inducements that are financial or not directly associated with the quality or provision of education or care services.

You can:

- offer discounted or free care
- advertise your service and offer free site visits or trial periods
- issue marketing merchandise to the value of $30 per complying written arrangement
- include extra-curricular activities as part of a session fee
- advertise your social impact through activities like donations to a charity
- transport to or from your service, if this is part of your normal business practice.

We may take compliance action against providers that continue to offer inducements not permitted under the law. This could include:

- putting conditions on your approval
- suspending or cancelling your approval.

Read about inducements and advertising at your service on our website.

Updating enrolments in the CCSS

When your care arrangements for children change, they must be recorded.

Update an enrolment notice in the CCSS when:

- the family disagrees with details of an enrolment and you agree an update is required
- the care arrangement between you and the family changes
- you realise the information in an enrolment is incorrect
- the care arrangement ends.

When any of these events occur, the enrolment notice must be updated within 7 days.

Invitations to apply for ex-Tropical Cyclone Alfred support payment

We have emailed providers affected by ex-Tropical Cyclone Alfred with an offer to receive the one-off $10,000 support payment for their eligible services.

If you have a service in an affected local government area (LGA), check your email for your payment offer. Providers can accept the offer by completing a secure online form for any services that meet the eligibility criteria.

Services are eligible if they:

- are CCS-approved
- are in an LGA covered by a CCS period of emergency in relation to ex-Tropical Cyclone Alfred (these LGAs are listed at the end of this email)
- closed, or partially closed, for 8 days or more during the period of emergency
- agreed to waive gap fees for families while closed during the period of emergency.

Learn more about the payment and eligibility criteria.

Not all providers that receive the offer will have services that meet the eligibility criteria. If you receive an offer for a service that does not meet the eligibility criteria, you do not need to complete the online form for that service.

How and when will payments be made?

The payment will be made after providers complete and submit online forms for any services that meet all the eligibility criteria.

The payment will be paid directly to each service found eligible through the offer and acceptance process. It will be paid into the bank account currently nominated for a service in the Child Care Subsidy System (CCSS). This is the same account used to pay CCS. Services should ensure their bank account details are up to date in the CCSS.

What if I haven't received an email offering the support payment?

Emails have been sent to the email address registered for your provider in the CCSS.

If you have services in the affected LGAs and haven't received an email offering the payment, you should:

- check the email address for your provider registered in CCSS via the Provider Entry Point (PEP) or your third-party software
- update your provider email address if you don't have one registered or it is out of date
- check your junk mail
- contact the helpdesk at CCShelpdesk@education.gov.au.

Providing a statement of tax record for Child Care Subsidy approval

From 1 April 2025, new Child Care Subsidy (CCS) provider approval applicants need to give us a statement of tax record (STR).

The provider must supply the STR. Applicants will need to:

- request and obtain the required STR for their organisation from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO)
- provide the STR as part of their application for CCS approval.

For CCS approval, a provider must be considered fit and proper to handle public money. All new providers go through a fit and proper assessment. The STR will form part of this assessment. It demonstrates a provider's engagement with the tax system.

You can request an STR from the ATO using ATO online services or through your registered tax professional. To request an STR, visit the ATO website.

Find out more about who needs to provide an STR for your business structure on our website.

2024 National Workforce Census results released this week

We surveyed more than 18,000 early childhood education and care (ECEC) services across Australia, including more than 2,000 dedicated preschools. This covers 97% of all CCS-approved services in Australia.

The 2024 National Workforce Census (NWC) National Report gives an overview of the key data on ECEC services and workers.

The NWC is the only national census of its type in Australia. The NWC aims to improve the quality of information used in developing and measuring early childhood policy and programs.

A report with more detailed tables of information will be published later in 2025.

Transferring or acquiring a service

Find out what you need to do if you transfer or acquire a service while getting the worker retention payment.

Transferring a service

If you transfer a service to another provider, you will stop getting funding for that service.

You will continue to get funding for your other eligible services. If you don't have any other eligible services, we will terminate your grant agreement.

If you transfer the service to a provider who does not get the worker retention payment, the service will not be eligible unless the provider applies for the funding.

Acquiring a service

If you acquire a service from another provider, you can get the worker retention payment for that service if it meets the conditions of your grant agreement. This includes the fee growth cap. We check service fees regularly to ensure compliance.

What you need to do

In both cases, you must tell us about the change. You can do this by emailing ccshelpdesk@education.gov.au.

We will send you a grant variation to reflect the change.

You must also comply with your CCS approval obligations when buying or selling a service.

Budget 2025–26: support for services and families affected by ex-Tropical Cyclone Alfred

The 2025–26 Budget continues to build a better and fairer education system and prioritise support for Australian families and students of all ages.

The Australian Government has activated $2.5 million in additional support for families and early childhood education and child care providers affected by ex-Tropical Cyclone Alfred.

The ex-Tropical Cyclone Alfred support payment of $10,000 will be available for Child Care Subsidy (CCS) approved services that:

- are in a local government area (LGA) covered by a CCS period of emergency in relation to ex-Tropical Cyclone Alfred
- closed, or partially closed, for 8 days or more during the period of emergency
- agree to waive gap fees for families while closed during the period of emergency.

This payment will ensure services are not financially disadvantaged because they had to close for an extended period due to the cyclone and associated flooding.

Families who need extra help with the cost of child care may be eligible for Additional Child Care Subsidy \(ACCS\) temporary financial hardship which usually covers the full cost of child care for up to 100 hours of care per fortnight, for up to 13 weeks.

Read more in the announcement.

Ex-Tropical Cyclone Alfred support payment coming soon

We will start contacting providers that have services in the affected LGAs soon to invite them to apply via a secure online application form.

Applications will be emailed to the provider-level email addresses registered in the Child Care Subsidy System (CCSS). Providers with more than one service in the affected LGAs may need to complete more than one application form.

Please ensure you have updated your contact details in the CCSS via the Provider Entry Point \(PEP\) or your third-party software.

How and when will payments be made?

The payment can be made after providers complete and submit application forms for any services they think meet all the eligibility criteria. We will notify providers that submit the form to confirm which of their services are eligible to receive the payment.

The payment will be paid directly to each service found eligible through the application process.

The payment will be paid into the bank account currently nominated for a service in the CCSS, which is the same account used to pay CCS. Services should ensure their bank account details are up to date in the CCSS.

Facts from FAL

What can an infringement notice be issued for?

We monitor providers to make sure they follow the rules under Family Assistance Law (FAL). We can issue infringement notices, or fines, when they don't follow the rules.

There are many FAL obligations that contain a civil penalty offence for which we can issue an infringement notice.

Some examples include:

- not updating the status of a current working with children check (WWCC)
- not correctly recording persons with management or control
- not submitting enrolment notices or session reports on time
- not passing on or remitting a fee reduction amount
- not correctly reporting your fee information
- failure to notify the correct agency of a child at risk of serious abuse or neglect.

Find more information and what to do if you receive an infringement notice on our website.

How we manage overpayments

An overpayment is when you receive more CCS than you're entitled to.

Overpayments can happen when you withdraw or change a session report, such as recording fewer hours of care.

We use your future CCS payments to pay back the overpayment. This is called offsetting. You can see if offsetting has occurred in your payment advice in the CCSS.

We won't take more than 50% of any single future payment, unless agreed otherwise.

You must pass on the full entitlement to families, even if your CCS payments have been reduced by offsetting.

Read more about how to manage overpayments and debt on our website.

Prepare for changes to fit and proper person requirements

From 1 April 2025, new CCS provider approval applicants will need to give us a statement of tax record (STR).

For CCS approval, a provider must be considered fit and proper to handle public money. All new providers go through a fit and proper assessment. The STR will form part of this assessment. It demonstrates a provider's engagement with the tax system.

Providers will be able to request an STR from the ATO:

- by using ATO online services
- through their registered tax professional.

Visit our website for more information on how to prepare for STR for CCS.

Facts from FAL

Absences during a period of emergency

During a period of emergency, families won't have to use their annual allocation of allowable absences.

Children who live or attend a service in an affected region will get extra allowable absences for the duration of the period of emergency.

These absences will be automatically applied in the Child Care Subsidy System if we declare a period of emergency.

After a period of emergency, families may receive additional absences if they have exhausted their annual allocation of allowable absences.

Read more about absences from child care on our website.

Enrolments: you and the family must agree on care arrangements

Before enrolling a child, you must come to an agreement with the family on care arrangements for the child.

The most common care arrangement for children who get CCS is a Complying Written Arrangement (CWA).

Families must agree to the care arrangements in writing. They can do this electronically or in hard copy.

Read more about CWAs and how to enrol children on our website.

Caring for extended family in Family Day Care

If you work in Family Day Care (FDC), there are rules you must follow when caring for extended family members.

Extended family members include a FDC educator's or their partner's:

- niece/nephew
- cousin
- grandchild, or
- great-grandchild.

You may be able to report CCS eligible sessions when FDC educators are caring for extended family members, but you must follow the 'less than 50% rule'.

Worker retention payment update

Understanding funding amounts

We intend for all participating providers to get sufficient funding through the worker retention payment.

If you participate, you will get funding to cover:

- a 10% wage increase for all eligible staff in the first year
- an additional 5% wage increase for all eligible staff in the second year
- at least an extra 20% for eligible on-costs, calculated against your base funding.

You can also:

- apply for a payment to cover accrued historical leave liabilities that increased because of the wage increase
- request a funding review if you believe the standard payment calculation method is not appropriate.

For most providers, the standard payment will cover the full cost of the wage increase and associated on-costs. If you apply for a funding review and are found eligible, you will get a top up payment.

See our application guide and find out how to request a funding review on our website.

Privacy obligations when collecting personal information

You must tell families if you collect their personal information. You must take reasonable steps to ensure families are aware.

You collect personal information from families when you enrol children. You then share this information with us so they can get CCS.

When you collect personal information from families, you must make sure that they:

- know that you are collecting their personal information
- understand that you will share this information with us
- consent to you sharing this information with us.

So that families can get CCS, we need to:

- collect their personal information
- share this information with other government departments, like Services Australia.

Make sure that families understand that we cannot provide CCS without their permission for you to share information with us.

You must also take reasonable steps to protect the personal information that you hold about families. This includes keeping families' information safe from loss, unauthorised access, use, modification, disclosure or misuse.

Salary sacrificing early childhood education and care fees

Do you have families who pay their early childhood education and care fees through salary sacrifice? Make sure you're reporting their fees correctly.

Salary sacrificing is considered a third-party payment. There are rules you must follow when a third party contributes to a family's fees.

Generally, when a third party helps a family pay its early childhood education and care fees, you must deduct the contribution from the total session fee.

The family's CCS rate will then be applied to the reduced session fee. This is because families are only entitled to CCS in relation to the amount they have to pay after any third-party payments.

The family must still pay a gap fee.

We have examples on our website to help you understand how to report different types of third-party payments. We have published a new example about salary sacrificing.

Changes to fit and proper person requirements coming soon

From 1 April 2025, new CCS provider approval applicants will need to provide a statement of tax record (STR).

For CCS approval, a provider must be considered fit and proper to handle public money. All new providers go through a fit and proper assessment. The STR will form part of this assessment. It demonstrates a provider's engagement with the tax system.

The provider must supply the STR. Applicants will need to:

- request and obtain the required STR for their organisation from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO)
- provide the STR as part of their application for CCS approval.

Providers will be able to request an STR from the ATO:

- by using ATO online services
- through their registered tax professional.

Can families travelling overseas get CCS?

- payments will stop if a family travels overseas for 6 weeks or more, restarting when they return to Australia.

A family can use their 42 allowable absences for short term travel overseas.

The department will now work with Services Australia to ensure child care providers and families are ready for the change in January next year.

What Closing the Gap report means for early childhood

On 10 February 2025, the Australian Government released the Commonwealth Closing the Gap 2024 Annual Report and 2025 Implementation Plan.

The report:

- assesses the Commonwealth's progress against Closing the Gap targets and priority reforms over the last year
- outlines the Commonwealth's priorities to support Closing the Gap targets and priority reforms over the next year
- spotlights outstanding programs, services and initiatives.

Closing the Gap outcomes 3 and 4 focus on the early years. They aim to ensure:

- children are engaged in high quality, culturally appropriate early childhood education and care (ECEC)
- children thrive in their early years.

The report highlights key achievements and investments to improve progress in these areas, including:

- continuation of the Early Childhood Care and Development Policy Partnership
- expansion of Connected Beginnings to 50 sites across the country
- finalising the Early Years Strategy and developing a Monitoring and Evaluation Framework
- establishment of new First Nations-led ECEC services through the Community Child Care Fund restricted expansion grant

Spotlight on Connected Beginnings

This year's report puts a spotlight on the Connected Beginnings program in Ceduna.

Connected Beginnings is an Australian Government grants program that helps Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander children get the best start to life.

Connected Beginnings started in 2017 in Ceduna, South Australia. Since then, the program has laid the foundations for community-led systems change in Ceduna, Scotdesco and surrounding homelands. It also works with families of the Yalata and Oak Valley (Maralinga) communities who have connections with Ceduna and Koonibba.

"Our focus and our purpose of Connected Beginnings is engaging with our families. It's making sure that our families are safe, that their voices are listened to, and that when we're making decisions on programs centred around those families, that they are at the heart and soul of what we do. I want our kids to be treated fairly and to grow up safe and strong, connected to culture" – Connected Beginnings Project Officer, Ceduna.

There are now 50 Connected Beginnings sites across Australia supporting about 24,800 children.

Discounted care for staff

Did you know you can offer a discounted fee to some staff whose children attend your service?

You can offer discounts to employees who:

- are employed, contracted or engaged as an educator, early childhood teacher or cook
- work at a Centre Based Day Care or Outside School Hours Care service, and
- have a child enrolled at a service where they work or that you own.

It's up to you how much you want to discount. The employee must still pay at least 5% of the gap fee.

The discount won't affect the employee's CCS entitlement.

Apply for the paid practicum subsidy

The paid practicum subsidy helps early childhood teachers and educators in training complete their practicums.

We pay this subsidy to providers, so you can give your staff paid leave while they complete practicums.

Practicums help teachers and educators in training gain practical, work-place experience in an early childhood educational setting. They are mandatory for most ECEC qualifications.

Providers must apply for the subsidy on behalf of staff. If you have staff who need to complete a practicum, we encourage you to apply.

If you work in the sector and think you'd benefit from these subsidies, please talk to your provider about applying.

Worker retention payment update

More support for worker retention payment applicants

We are funding organisations to help providers engage with the worker retention payment.

You will soon be able to access free support to engage with, apply for and meet the conditions of the worker retention payment.

The organisations we're funding to provide this support are:

- Community Early Learning Australia
- Australian Childcare Alliance
- National Outside School Hours Services Alliance
- AI Group
- SNAICC – National Voice for Our Children
- Independent Education Union
- United Workers Union
- Australian Services Union.

The organisations were selected based on their:

- knowledge of the early childhood education and care (ECEC) sector, and
- understanding of the worker retention payment.

We will provide a summary of services provided by each organisation and contact details soon.

Find out more about the worker retention payment.

Passing funding on to labour hire workers

The government intends for all workers covered by the awards, or undertaking duties covered by the awards, get a wage increase. This includes workers engaged through a labour hire agency.

The worker retention payment is paid to eligible Child Care Subsidy (CCS) approved services. Services should work with their labour hire agency to:

- determine how funding will be passed on to workers hired through these agencies
- update their contractual arrangements.

Any funding provided by a service to a labour hire agency must be passed on to workers as higher wages. Funding cannot be used to pay for the agency's fees.

Services should request evidence showing that funding has been passed on to workers. This evidence could be part of the contract terms or a formal declaration from the agency.

Providers must show that funding was used in line with these conditions in their annual reporting.

Contacting our helpdesk

The CCS Provider Helpdesk is here to help you.

When you contact the helpdesk, you can expect our staff to provide a respectful service. We ask that you treat our staff respectfully in return. The helpdesk will not tolerate abusive, threatening or violent behaviour.

While helpdesk staff can provide advice about the worker retention payment, they do not have access to individual applications.

After submitting your application and receiving a confirmation email, no further action is required from you. If we need more information, we will contact you.

We are working to assess applications as quickly as possible and appreciate your patience.

3-day guarantee legislation introduced

Today, the Australian Government introduced legislation to parliament to give children access to 3 days a week of subsidised early childhood education and care.

It's called the 3-day guarantee.

Should legislation pass, families can get at least 72 subsidised hours of care each fortnight for each child. This is regardless of how much work, training, study or volunteering they do.

Families caring for First Nations children will get 100 hours of subsidised care each fortnight for each child.

This proposed change is part of the government's pathway toward a universal early education and care system.

How to request a worker retention payment funding review

The funding review process allows us to support unique providers for whom the standard payment calculation method is not appropriate.

A provider must be approved for the worker retention payment and smooth funding across services before requesting a funding review.

The provider must operate services that:

- have a unique staffing profile, or
- have stand-alone jurisdiction-funded preschool rooms, or
- are First Nations, remote/ or very remote, or
- get the Community Child Care Fund and have a unique operating model, or
- cannot be provided consistent and smoothed funding by the provider across a financial year.

If you meet the above criteria, contact ccshelpdesk@education.gov.au to request a funding review.

Read more about requesting a funding review on our website.

Give feedback on disability standards

We're seeking feedback on proposed changes to include early childhood education and care (ECEC) in the Disability Standards for Education (the Standards).

The Standards explain what you must do to support students with disability.

In 2020 a review of the Standards recommended including ECEC services. This will make it clearer and easier for you to understand what your service must do to support children with disability under the Disability Discrimination Act 1992.

You can give feedback anonymously and you do not have to answer all the questions.

FAQs, documents that explain the changes, and the link to provide feedback are on the consultation website.

Changes to fit and proper person requirements

From 1 April 2025, new CCS provider approval applicants will need to provide a statement of tax record (STR).

The provider must supply the STR. Applicants will need to:

- request and obtain the required STR for their organisation from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO)
- provide the STR as part of their application for CCS approval.

For CCS approval, a provider must be considered fit and proper to handle public money. All new providers go through a fit and proper assessment. The STR will form part of this assessment. It demonstrates a provider's engagement with the tax system.

Providers will be able to request an STR from the ATO:

- by using ATO online services
- through their registered tax professional.

Visit our website for more information on STR for CCS.

Facts from FAL

Inducements and advertising your service

An inducement is an incentive offered by a provider or a third party to secure a child's enrolment at a service.

Inducements that are financial or not directly associated with the quality or provision of education or care services are not allowed. This includes cash, vouchers, electronics devices, gifts or gift cards.

You can:

- offer discounted or free care
- advertise your service and offer free site visits or trial periods

- issue marketing merchandise to the value of $30 per complying written arrangement
- include extra-curricular activities as part of a session fee
- advertise your social impact through activities like donations to a charity
- provide transport to or from your service, if this is part of your normal business practice.

Fee discounts must be reported correctly if CCS is claimed.

Read about inducements and advertising at your service on our website.

How to avoid an overpayment

You may sometimes receive more CCS than you're entitled to. This is known as an overpayment.

Overpayments generally occur if you withdraw or change a session report, such as recording fewer hours of care.

If this happens, we'll use your future CCS payments to pay back the difference. This is called offsetting. You can see if offsetting has occurred in your payment advice in the Child Care Subsidy System.

The best way to avoid an overpayment is to submit accurate and timely session reports.

Workforce support

Apply for a professional development subsidy

Applications for our professional development subsidies are open.

The subsidies aim to strengthen the skills and professional experience of your workforce.

We pay the subsidies to providers to pass on to staff through training opportunities and paid leave.

The subsidies provide a flat daily or weekly rate depending on the activity. This may not cover all costs. Providers are responsible for any remaining costs, including associated on-costs.

Following high demand for the professional development subsidy in the last round, we will prioritise applications for:

- educators in regional and remote areas
- First Nations educators.

Remaining applications will be funded in the order they are received until funding is exhausted.

Applications close on 14 March.

Worker retention payment funding review process

The funding review process allows us to support unique providers for whom the standard worker retention payment calculation method is not appropriate.

The government has committed to provide all participating providers with funding to cover:

- a 10% wage increase for all eligible workers in the first year
- an additional 5% wage increase for all eligible workers in the second year
- a minimum of an additional 20% funding for eligible on-costs.

For most providers, a standard payment calculation will cover these costs. However, there may be a small number of services who provide a unique service offering outside the scope of the standard payment calculation.

This includes providers who operate services that:

- have a unique staffing profile, or
- have stand-alone jurisdiction-funded preschool rooms, or
- are First Nations, remote/ or very remote, or
- get the Community Child Care Fund and have a unique operating model, or
- cannot be provided consistent and smoothed funding by the provider across a financial year.

Providers of these services can request a funding review. Before requesting a review, you must first be approved for the worker retention payment.

You will need to complete an application to receive a funding review. If found eligible:

- we will vary your grant agreement
- some or all of your services will move to an alternative funding review stream
- payments will be made quarterly based on employee data
- you will have additional reporting requirements.

Read more about the funding review process on our website.

Ensuring quality and safety in early childhood education and care

We're ensuring quality and safety in services that don't operate under the National Quality Framework (NQF).

For most early childhood education and care (ECEC) services, the NQF provides a national approach to ensuring quality standards are met.

A small number of services are out of scope of the NQF. This includes some Community Child Care Fund restricted (CCCFR) services. Such services operate under the Child Care Subsidy Minister's Rules 2017.

This year we're starting a regulatory project to provide additional support to these services. This will enable them to meet the quality and safety requirements in the Minister's Rules.

We will work collaboratively with these services to ensure quality and safety.

Our regulatory approach:

- will align with the key objectives of the NQF
- will acknowledge the unique contexts these services operate in
- aims to ensure all children have access to high quality and safe early learning environments.

The project builds on several existing projects including:

- ACECQA Quality and Safety Project
- Northern Territory Regulatory Project
- South Australia Regulatory Project.

We have contacted identified services directly with more information. If you have questions about the project, contact ECYRegulatoryProject@education.gov.au.

Facts from FAL

Reminder that fee reporting obligations were due 14 January

Changes made in September 2024 mean that you must notify us of fees at least twice a year to ensure they are correctly updated or remain accurate.

You need to notify us of your fees 14 days after the end of the:

- financial year – due 14 July
- calendar year – due 14 January.

This also includes reporting no change to fees.

To report no change, update the date of event on the fees and inclusions screen via the Provider Entry Point (PEP) or your third-party software.

This reporting obligation is in addition to the current notification requirements to report the fees within 14 days of:

- receiving CCS approval
- starting the CCS approved service
- changing your fees.

This change was part of the government's commitment to improving the transparency of child care fees. It will help families make informed financial decisions about ECEC.

Read more about notifications and reporting on our website.

Claiming CCS when your service is closed

Did you know that you cannot claim Child Care Subsidy (CCS) when your service is closed, except:

- on a public holiday by law
- during a CCS period of emergency.

Read more about service closures on our website.

What happens if you get an infringement notice?

We issue infringement notices when providers don't follow the rules under Family Assistance Law (FAL). Providers must make sure that they, their employees and educators follow the rules.

An infringement is a fine and can be expensive. Some infringement notices are more than $15,000.

We send infringement notices by email and by post. Emails will come from CCinfringements@education.gov.au. Please add this address to your safe list and check your mail often.

Our website has a range of resources to help you avoid an infringement notice, including:

- a free online learning module on Geccko, our online learning platform
- information about how to administer CCS
- a comprehensive table of reporting obligations, tasks and timeframes
- a series of short videos covering common compliance issues
- handbooks, guides and task cards on key programs.

Reporting absences

You can report an absence in your session reports if:

- the child was enrolled in a session of care but did not attend, and
- the family has been charged a gap fee for that session of care.

You cannot report absences when your service is closed, except on a public holiday or during a period of emergency.

During a period of emergency, the closure must be as a direct result of the emergency.

Read more about how to manage absences on our website.

Support for educators to complete practicums

Are your educators using the practicum exchange network? They may be eligible for a living allowance to complete a practicum exchange.

The practicum exchange network is a dedicated website connecting ECEC services and educators in training.

Educators who work in the sector and use the network may be eligible for a living and travel allowance to complete a practicum in a rural or remote area.

Providers must apply on behalf of eligible staff. Applications close on 14 March 2025.

Share with families

Families facing tough times may get more child care support

If you are facing difficult or challenging circumstances, you can sometimes get free child care. This is called Additional Child Care Subsidy, or ACCS. It usually covers all fees.

There are 4 types of ACCS:

Child wellbeing

The child wellbeing subsidy is for families who need practical help to support their child's safety and wellbeing. Your child care service applies for this on behalf of families. Families cannot apply.

Grandparent

The grandparent subsidy is for grandparents on income support who are the primary carer of their grandchild.

Temporary financial hardship

The temporary financial hardship subsidy is for families experiencing temporary, significant financial stress.

Transition to work

The transition to work subsidy is for parents or carers transitioning to work from income support.

Except for ACCS child wellbeing, you apply on the Services Australia website or through your myGov account.

Families can find more details at Additional Child Care Subsidy.

Celebrating 50 Connected Beginnings sites

Last week the Australian Government launched the 50th Connected Beginnings site in Kununurra, Western Australia.

This is a major milestone for the grants program, which helps Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander children get the best start to life.

In 2021, the Australian Government committed $81.8 million to expand the program to 50 sites nationally by 2025.

Minister for Early Childhood Education the Hon Dr Anne Aly MP announced $2.4 million for Binarri-binyja yarrowoo Aboriginal Corporation Limited to deliver the 50th site in Kununurra on Thursday.

The new site will support around 600 Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander children in Kununurra.

Nationally, the program supports about 24,800 Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander children across all 50 sites. The program has the potential to support up to 20% of all Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander children aged zero to 5.

Connected Beginnings is a community-owned and led initiative making a tangible difference in Closing the Gap in early childhood education. It provides steady, wrap-around support so children are safe, healthy and ready to thrive at school.

The program is jointly funded by us and the Department of Health and Aged Care. It's delivered in partnership with SNAICC – National Voice for our Children and the National Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Organisation (NACCHO).

CCS helpdesk closed next Monday

The Child Care Subsidy (CCS) Provider Helpdesk will be closed for the public holiday on Monday 27 January.

The helpdesk will re-open at 9 am AEDT on Tuesday 28 January.

You can contact the helpdesk anytime at CCShelpdesk@education.gov.au and we will respond during business hours.

CCS payments may be affected by the public holiday.

Reminder for CCCF grant recipients

A reminder that grants under round 4 of the Community Child Care Fund (CCCF) disadvantaged and vulnerable communities grant are transitioning to the Community Grants Hub.

If you have a capital support grant, it will transition from tomorrow.

If you have both a capital support and sustainability support grant, both will transition from tomorrow.

If you only have a sustainability support grant, it will transition from 31 March 2025.

You don't need to do anything. The Community Grants Hub will contact you once your grant has been transferred.

Change to start date of direct gap fee collection

Last year, the government announced that Family Day Care (FDC) and In Home Care (IHC) providers must collect the gap fee direct from families.

The start date for this measure has moved to 1 January 2026. This change is based on feedback from the sector. It gives providers time to make necessary administrative changes.

We have partnered with Family Day Care Australia and the NSW Family Day Care Association to support providers to transition.

Family Day Care Australia will support FDC providers. NSW Family Day Care Association will support IHC providers. They will be reaching out to providers shortly.

An overview of the proposed changes can be found on our website.

This measure is subject to the passage of legislation.

Issues with RA number in PRODA

A small number of providers are experiencing an IT error where their RA number is removed from their records.

If you're affected:

- your service status will show as 'not approved'
- you will not be able to interact with your services in the Child Care Subsidy System (CCSS).

This does not mean that your CCS approval has been removed.

To fix the problem, a person with management or control should email CCShelpdesk@education.gov.au. Include screenshots from PRODA showing:

- your PRODA RA number and your ABN
- personnel details for your organisation showing the person listed as 'Director'.

We will work with Services Australia to restore access. This usually takes 1–2 business days.

We are also working with Services Australia to permanently fix the issue.

Celebrating one year of Geccko

Geccko is our free online learning platform for the early childhood education and care (ECEC) sector. It has resources to help you understand your Family Assistance Law (FAL) obligations.

- more than 6,000 user registrations
- more than 12,500 course completions.

What we're hearing from users:

"These courses would be very beneficial to new staff."

"The learning courses are very user-friendly and easy to complete, and specifically, the knowledge tests are very user friendly and easy too."

Facts from FAL

The enrolment process in 4 steps

As we enter a new year, it's a good time to refresh your understanding of the enrolment process.

All children who attend approved care must be enrolled. This is a requirement under FAL.

Enrolling children correctly means families can get CCS payments.

Follow these steps.

Step 1

Families lodge a CCS claim using their Centrelink online account. They should do this before their child starts at your service.

Step 2

You and the family agree on care arrangements for the child. Families must agree to the care arrangements in writing.

Step 3

Submit an enrolment notice in the CCSS for the care arrangement.

Step 4

The family will be prompted to confirm the enrolment via their Centrelink online account. CCS payments will not start until the enrolment is confirmed.

Read more details about the enrolment process on our website.

Salary sacrificing early childhood education and care fees

Do you have families who pay through salary sacrifice? Make sure you're reporting their fees correctly to avoid compliance action.

Salary sacrificing is considered a third-party payment. There are rules you must follow when a third party contributes to a family's fees.

Generally, when a third party helps a family pay its fees, you must deduct the contribution from the total session fee.

The family's CCS rate will then be applied to the reduced session fee. This is because families are only entitled to CCS in relation to the amount they have to pay after any third-party payments.

The family must still pay a gap fee.

Check out the examples on our website to help you understand how to report different types of third-party payments.

Apply for professional development subsidies

Applications are open for our professional development and paid practicum subsidies.

The professional development subsidy helps qualified staff complete training.

The paid practicum subsidy helps early childhood teachers and educators in training complete their practicums.

We pay these subsidies to providers. Providers pass funding on to staff through training opportunities and paid leave.

Providers must apply on behalf of staff. If you work in the sector and think you'd benefit from these subsidies, please talk to your provider about applying.

Following high demand for the professional development subsidy in the last round, we will prioritise applications for:

- educators in regional and remote areas
- First Nations educators.

Remaining applications will be funded in the order they are received until funding is exhausted.

Applications will close on 14 March 2025.

Worker retention payment update

New workplace instrument available

On 10 December 2024, the Fair Work Commission approved the Early Childhood Education and Care Multi-Employer Enterprise Agreement.

The agreement is compliant with the worker retention payment conditions. This means that providers covered by the agreement will meet the workplace instrument requirement.

Providers can apply to join the agreement. Find out how on the Fair Work Commission website.

Compliant workplace instruments

You must engage workers through a workplace instrument that meets grant conditions.

The workplace instrument must:

- include an obligation to pay workers at least 10% above current award rates
- provide for an additional 5% above applicable award rates from 1 December 2025
- apply until at least 30 November 2026.

A workplace instrument will not be compliant if it excludes the above amounts from calculations of:

- penalties
- loadings
- termination payments
- payments while on leave
- superannuation.

Minimum rates updated

We have updated the worker retention payment minimum rates to reflect the Children's Services Award 2010 rate increase for level 1.1 workers from 1 January 2025.

Get help with your application

We are receiving a high volume of incomplete or inaccurate applications. Applications must be complete and accurate before we can start our assessment.

Before you submit your application, please consult our application guide and ensure you have checked off all the required details.

The application guide shows you:

- how to find your CRNs, ABN and ACNs

- how to find your correct provider and service names
- guidance on financial and staffing information.

Payments start this month

Regular payments will start to eligible providers this month.

We will send payments to the same bank account as your Child Care Subsidy (CCS) payments.

Please ensure your bank account details are up to date via the Provider Entry Point (PEP) or your third-party software.

Backdating payments

We understand meeting certain conditions, like having a workplace instrument, may take time. We will backdate payments for providers who:

- submit a complete application by 30 June 2025
- meet the eligibility criteria from 2 December 2024.

We will backdate payments to either:

- 2 December 2024: for providers who have a compliant workplace instrument that covers the full grant period, even if the instrument was adopted or formed after 2 December 2024
- the date from which the workplace instrument applies: for providers who have a compliant workplace instrument that starts after 2 December 2024.

Connected Beginnings is expanding in the ACT

The Australian Government is expanding the Connected Beginnings program in the Australian Capital Territory (ACT).

Connected Beginnings is a grants program that helps Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander children get the best start to life.

It's for children from birth to school age and pregnant women. Through it, children can get steady, wrap-around support. This helps them meet the learning and development milestones needed for a smooth start to school.

The new site at Winnunga Nimmitjiah Health and Community Services will support up to 1000 Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander children across the ACT.

The site joins 48 other locations across the country supporting about 24,200 Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander children.

The new site is part of an $81.8 million investment from the Australian Government to expand the program to 50 sites nationally.

Once all 50 sites are established, the program has the potential to support up to 20% of all Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander children aged zero to 5.

Learn more about Connected Beginnings.

Update for CCCF grant recipients

Grants made under round 4 of the Community Child Care Fund (CCCF) disadvantaged and vulnerable communities grant will soon transition to the Community Grants Hub.

The transition will occur in 2 phases:

- if you only have a 'capital support' grant, this will transition from 23 January 2025
- if you have both a 'capital support' and 'sustainability support' grant, these will both transition from 23 January 2025
- if you only have a 'sustainability support' grant, this will transition from 31 March 2025.

You don't need to do anything. The Community Grants Hub will contact you once your grant has been transferred.

After this, all communication about your grant will be through the Community Grants Hub. This includes:

- questions about your grant
- grant reporting
- payment information
- acquittals.

We will continue to manage grants until the transfer date.

Facts from FAL

Getting ready for a new school year

Here are some important reminders about the CCS as we approach the start of another school year.

Families should ensure their child's expected primary school start date is up to date with Services Australia. Services Australia uses this information to calculate a family's CCS rate.

Children who have finished primary school can continue to attend care and get CCS over the school holidays if:

- they are under 13
- they have not yet started attending high school.

You must end a child's enrolment if their family advises they're ending care. You may need to do this for children who will leave your service to start school. You can end enrolments in the PEP or your third-party software.

We generally don't pay CCS for any absences after a child's last physical attendance at your service. Read more about absences at the start or end of an enrolment on our website.

How can you help families use EFT?

Most families get salaries or benefits electronically, making it easy for them to pay the gap fee using electronic funds transfer (EFT).

Families can pay the gap fee by payroll deduction as long as:

- the payment is made using EFT
- the provider can identify the electronic payment as being the gap fee for the family.

Learn more about how you can help families use EFT.

Complete the Electronic Payment of Gap Fees course in Geccko to learn more.

Submitting session reports

Remember to submit accurate session reports on time – it's the law. Services Australia uses session reports to calculate and process CCS payments.

As a CCS-approved provider, you must:

- submit session reports within 14 days after the end of the week in which the session of care was provided
- submit a session report for each child at your service, for each week a session of care is provided
- include at least one session of care a week, recorded as either an attendance or absence
- only include sessions of care for which you charge a family a fee for providing care to their child.

Submit session reports through the PEP or your third-party software.

Learn more about session reports on our website.

Who must have a working with children check?

Broadly, anyone who has contact with children at an early childhood education and care service must have a current working with children check (WWCC).

This usually includes:

- all educators
- persons with management or control (PMCs)
- persons responsible for the day-to-day operation of a service.

Each state and territory has different requirements. In some jurisdictions, PMCs must have a WWCC even if they do not have direct contact with children.

Find out more about your WWCC obligations and where to apply on our website.

Apply for professional development subsidies

Applications are now open for round 2 of the 2024–25 professional development subsidies.

The professional development subsidy helps qualified staff complete training.

The paid practicum subsidy helps early childhood teachers and educators in training complete their practicums.

We pay these subsidies to providers. Providers pass funding on to staff through training opportunities and paid leave.

Providers must apply on behalf of staff. If you work in the sector and think you'd benefit from these subsidies, please talk to your provider about applying.

Following high demand for the professional development subsidy in the last round, we will prioritise applications for:

- educators in regional and remote areas
- First Nations educators.

Remaining applications will be funded in the order they are received until funding is exhausted.

Applications will close on 14 March 2025.

Practicum exchange living allowance applications open

Providers can now apply for a living allowance for educators who complete practicums in rural and remote areas.

The practicum exchange living allowance is for educators who:

- use the practicum exchange network
- arrange a practicum in a rural or remote area other than their home location between 1 July 2024 and 30 June 2025 through the network
- have worked full-time, part-time or casually at a CCS-approved service for more than 40 hours in the last 3 months
- are an Australian citizen, permanent resident or hold a valid work visa.

The allowance will provide up to $1,543.50 per week, for up to 4 weeks.

Applications are now open. Providers must apply on behalf of eligible staff.

Will you have more than one child in care this year?

If you have more than one child aged 5 or under in care, you may get a higher Child Care Subsidy (CCS) for your second child and any younger children.

You can get a higher subsidy for one or more of your children if all of these apply:

- you get or will be eligible for CCS
- your family's combined income is under $365,611
- your family has more than one CCS eligible child aged 5 or under.

Services Australia will work out if you're eligible. If you are, they'll automatically apply a higher subsidy to any eligible children in your family.

If your Centrelink online account is linked to myGov, you can check your CCS percentage online.

Find out more about how your number of children in care can affect your CCS on the Services Australia website.
